Unique Birds

There is nothing else on this planet like the Kiwi. Beautiful, and unique, they cannot fly, have hair-like feathers and no tail.

Takahē, the world's largest living rail, a remarkable conservation story of hope.

Pūkeko, a symbol of unique biodiversity with vivid appearance and bold personality

The Kea bird is one of the world's most intelligent parrots, Kaka, never fails to capture attention while Kākāpō, have captured the hearts of many.

Forest Birds

The Bellbird stands out for its unique yellow feathers and charm of songs. Kererū, one of the biggest fruit pigeons in the world, brings a touch of magic to the skies.

The tūī, is intelligent and has a melodious song. The delicate and small fantail bird is loved for its flamboyant tail and acrobatic flight.

Seabirds

The little blue penguin (kororā), A symbol of unique ecosystem that can be seen on Timaru beach. It is the only nocturnal penguin species on land and a lesson of adaptability and teamwork over overcoming challenges.

New Zealand is considered the seabird capital of the world

Seagulls soaring above oceans teach us the real freedom in the universe.
